Female, Giesen, 42 years old, February 2016

“My ear has healed completely thanks to the sprays.

In February 2015 I suddenly became very dizzy and I suffered from persistent nausea, and after thinking it was a heart attack, my otologist explained that the vestibular nerve (behind the ear, balance organ) was not functioning. According to my otologist and the internet, the damage was irreparable because in my case it was caused by shingles. In the first months I went to a chiropractor a lot... in the hope that it was a trapped nerve... but with no success until summer. The dizziness improved (because the other side tried to find the balance) but in many situations I was still dizzy.

Since November I have been spraying my neck and my ear. Two weeks of mild earache followed (on a level with my cheekbones). And since then, I have been less and less dizzy! No more loss of balance. And now the proof!!! Everything is back to normal!!! Both nerve systems are working just as they should again. My otologist has never seen anything like it.”
